

Updates from the Principal's Corner - Queen of All Saints Catholic Academy November 07, 2017

We have had a busy fall here at the Academy, full of exciting new learning programs, faith filled activities and service to our community and world. This week, our middle school students will attend the Catholic Junior High School Rally at St. Mark's Church and participate in collecting items for the Midnight Drive. In October, our students dedicated their Hispanic Heritage Night Project Presentation to disaster relief in Puerto Rico and Mexico. Children and families collected goods and funds in conjunction with Assembly Member Felix Ortiz of District 51. During the event, our student government representatives helped to organize and load supplies for delivery while our 5th and 6th grade students performed their merengue skills, which they had been practicing in their weekly ballroom classes with Ballroom Basix. Finally, we just received our package of tulip bulbs, the first of many projects our 4H club will complete in partnership with Cornell University. Our club will take part in various activities throughout the year that "engage New York City youth in projects and activities that help build skills in engineering, math, literacy, nutrition, health, STEM, civic engagement and leadership" including engineering wearable devices, coding for drones and researching techniques in forensic analysis. Join us on Welcome Wednesdays to tour the school, meet the principal and learn more about how we are truly "Building Knowledge and Inspiring Faith" in our school community.
